Little Talks on Thrift

USE OF MONEY. By S. W. STRAUS,

President American Society for Thrift. Dean Swift, when his attention was called to a book he had written during the early years of his life, exclaimed: "My God, but the genius I had when I wrote that book!"

It was the genius of hard work, possessed in his early life before dissipation had undermined his powers and thriftless habits had begun to block his progress.

The quality of success does not lie as much in brilliant attainment as in intelligent effort steadily applied.

We are moved to amazement when we learn of the returns which come with the investment of our savings at compound interest, but time put to good investment yields a far more marvelous

The words of Longfellow—"but they, while their companions slept, were toiling upward in the night"—should ever be borne in mind by every young man and young woman whose heart beats with the impulses of lofty ambition.

Substantial success in any walk of life can come only through Gladstone, Lincoln, Titian, Raphael, Franklin, Napoleon, Roose velt, Peter Cooper and Robert Morris are among those in various realms of success who helped to shape the destinies of the world because fundamentally they made the most of every moment. Leo, the great pontiff, was an early riser in order that he might not lose a moment of time in the fulfilment of his great and sacred duties. Thomas Jefferson, though endowed by nature with a brilliant mind and surrounded by every environment conducive to success, knew the need and advantage of constant application. During his school days he held himself to a routine of fifteen hours of work a day, and during all his career he was an exemplar and exponent of thrift of time.

A common mistake among the young and inexperienced is that success in life comes only as the reward of flaming genius. The epochal events of the world, like the great accomplishments of nature, have been the result of slow but constant growth.

Be thrifty with your time. Wasted hours are lost and gone forever, but the hours given to constructive labor or study will remain as faithful friends to help and strengthen your through all the years of your life.

One Hundred Investment Bargains in Railroad Bonds

In a circular prepared by one of the greatest bond authorities in this country, which we have just had printed, the bond situation is not only thoroughly covered, but there is a list of one hundred bargains in high grade railroad bonds yielding as high as

Ten Per Cent

Among this list are many unusual investment opportunities, and inasmuch as underlying factors are now favorable to rising bond prices, a selection of these bonds would unquestionably result in excellest market profits, in addition to an attractive income return.

The circular will be sent without obligation, together with a booklet describing a convenient method of purchasing the bonds.
